

Crowned Rollers

Steel plate rollers can deflect in the center under the pressure especially in big length/diameter ratio roller, so the engineers designed crown/curved surface as compensation for the deflect due to working pressure. Today the crown/curved surface of rolls could be obtained by machining on a CNC lathe.

